| 7-9/6/14   | Hall 5, Al Multaqua Ballroom | The Middle East Call Centre Conference (MECC) is the region’s distinguished platform for the call centre industry.
Now, more than ever, organisations need to cope with a business situation that is characterised by rapid change. Higher customer expectations, increased mobility and new customer management technologies are primary drivers resulting in a reversal of traditional roles whereby the customer is now in the driving seat as far as interaction with the company is concerned. As a result many companies are urgently trying to understand and quantify the effects of a more strategic approach to customer service, with the contact centre being at the forefront of their approach. | INSIGHTS Middle East, P.O.
